

CANYONING

Ribeira das Quelhas

Serra da Lousã

DESCRIPTION

This activity consists of descending the Quelhas River, using jumps into the water, natural slides, screeching, and abseiling. This stream runs through a steep, enclosed valley, whose crags and rocky escarpments make the place almost inaccessible, creating a natural environment marked by isolation and the imposing nature of the landscape. At the beginning of the activity, participants walk along the Quelhas walkways, which allow for a first approach to the valley before entering the canyoning itself.

The route runs along a stream with a short stretch, especially suitable for beginners. It includes six abseiling sections, with approximate heights between 14 and 20 meters, some of which are optional, as well as small jumps into the water and passages where simple screeching is necessary. All progression is done along the streambed, inside or outside the water.

Recommended season: spring, summer, and autumn (April to October), although during the summer the stream usually has a low flow.

Minimum age: 12 years.
